Minister of the Status of Women

Nepalese Canadian Women's Association's 4th Annual Women's Day Celebration

March 11, 2017

A Message from the Minister

I extend warm greetings to everyone attending the Nepalese Canadian Women's Association's (NCWA) 4th Annual Women's Day Celebration with the theme 'Pledge for Parity'.

Today's event is an important and inspiring way to mark International Women's Day. As the Minister of the newly created Ministry of the Status of Women, I would like to acknowledge and thank the Nepalese Canadian Women's Association for their invaluable support to the community.

International Women's Day is a time for all of us to honour the collective social, economic and political achievements of women. It is also an important opportunity to reflect on the brave women and girls who have broken barriers, fought for equality, and paved the way for future generations. Together, we must continue to make strides so that every woman and girl is safe, respected, and equal.

I would like to express my gratitude to the NCWA for organizing this event and for the important role it plays for women in the community. Please accept my best wishes for a successful and meaningful day.

Sincerely,
